THE KINDERGARTEN CLOSES

Because of the absence from school of Miss Nelson, Kindergarten assistant, the Kintergarten will not be in session after Wednesday, January 8th, until about March 1st when its work will be resumed. At that time places for those now in attendance will be reserved and names on the waiting list considered in order of their application. Transportation for the pupils of the first and second grades will be continued. Since, however, all children in these grades are carrying noon lunch, no car will be sent at noon after Wednesday until return of milder weather when further announcement will be made. Aside from the changes mentioned the work of the Demonstration school continues as usual.

288 OF HIS COMPANY KILLED

Harry C. Allen with the A. E. F., in France, in a letter to home folks dated December 8, writes as follows:

"I can at last inform you where I am; it is Bazoilles sur Meuse, on the Meuse river. The population is fifty, and twenty-five at the front lines. Oh boy, but it's a swell place when you're asleep. Before I came here I was at Chaumont on the Marne, general headquarters of the A. E. F. Was there for ten months and before that was in Paris, Montiers sur Meuse, Goudrecourt, Menincourt and Rabeyville. I sailed from the United States with a company of 300 men of whom twelve are now living and of the twelve nine have married French girls. Three are still single. I would just as soon be dead as married to a French girl. It will not be long until I shall be back in the U. S. I hope to get a letter from home soon.

Group Quartermaster,
Hospital Center, A. P. O. 731, France.

KIDS ENJOYED SLEIGH RIDE

Remember the old lady of the shoe who had so many children she didn't know what to do, of nursery days? The old lady of the rhyme had nothing on Uncle Jimmie Swinford, who accumulated some twenty-five or thirty youngsters yesterday evening and treated them to a sleigh ride. Uncle Jimmie drove up his cutter to the Democrat-Forum office to get his paper and in less than two shakes a passel of kids had tied on behind ready for a ride. But Uncle Jimmy decided that the whole bunch ought to go and at once began making room, and as quick as they could crawl up to her back, the little bay mare had five youngsters aboard. Others climbed into the cutter and still others brought up their sleds until they resembled a big fan spread out behind the cutter. The kids even crowded Uncle Jimmy out of the seat, but he didn't mind and after everybody had gotten comfortably fixed he managed to crowd back into a tiny space and they drove off, bells jingling and lusty lungs proclaiming their pleasure at the treat. There were twenty-one kids by actual count in Uncle Jimmie's party and they all hope the snow will stay on and promised to meet him and the cutter again tomorrow evening.

Western Graduate Law School at Cleveland, and upon his release from that went to Zanesville. He is recuperating from a serious attack of influenza and will remain at home until fully recovered.

LAWMAKERS READY

THE STATE LEGISLATURE OPENS SESSION TOMORROW

JOB HUNTERS ARE BUSY

Gov. Gardner Will Read Message to Joint Session—Long Meeting of Body in Sight.

Jefferson City, Jan. 7.—Members of the state legislature are arriving for what promises to be a long session beginning tomorrow.

Two of the Democratic candidates for president pro tem. of the senate are here. Senators Goodson of Macon and Harris of Boone. Senator Wallace Greene of Kansas City, who is generally regarded as the most likely candidate for this honor, is expected tonight. The attention of the Democrats is directed entirely to the senate, where they will be in control. Although the house is close, the Republicans will have a lead of three votes when they are all present and voting.

There are a swarm of candidates for jobs in both houses.

The ratification of the federal prohibition amendment is not attracting much attention here. It has been the generally expressed opinion here for weeks past that both branches of the assembly will ratify the federal dry amendment, and that very little time will be lost in doing so. Even wet members, to some extent, have expressed themselves as being anxious to get this question out as early as possible.

KEGIN BOYS IN FRANCE.

Roy Writes Parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Kegin, on Dec. 8.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Kegin of 602 East Second street, have received a letter from their son, Roy Kegin, with the American forces in France, dated Dec. 8. Roy went over in July. The Kegins have another son, Francis, who left Maryville early in the summer of 1917, with the first lot of enlisted men to go into training.

Dec. 8.

Dear Mother: Just a few lines to let you know I am still well and feeling fine. I hope all at home are the same. We have been pretty busy lately. Have just made a long hike, but are in camp now and guess we will stay until after Xmas. I have been upon the fighting line and seen some times. Have never seen Francis yet, but guess he is O. K. Give my best regards to all the kids, for I can't write them all. Well, war is over and I guess we will be back in the U. S. A. some of these fine days. I received the picture and thank you very much. Brother sure does look good. I don't look any too good, but I feel fine. Do any of the children ever see Harry Thompson or Ora Hardin? Tell the boys to take time to drop a line so I will know how they are getting along. * * * I guess I will close for this time. Your loving son,

SERGT. ROY KEGIN,
Co. A 18th Machine Gun Batt., A. E. F.

SEEING GERMAN COUNTRY.

Robert Burris Traveling into Germany With the Third Army.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Burris have received a very interesting letter from their son, Robert, with the field artillery service, in which he tells about their moves since the signing of the armistice.

Nov. 21.

Dear Mother.—I has been some time since I had a chance to write as we have been very busy since the war ceased moving up, and besides I am driving a truck and have very little time for myself. We are now located in a town that was taken in 1914 and have a fine place to stay. Before the war the French used it for a training camp. I forgot to say we were in barrcks—large brick buildings with running water and everything convenient, but we are leaving here early in the morning for the city of Luxemburg, so we are soon going to be somewhere in Germany instead of France. I am sure sorry I have to stay over here now for before the war was over we were in the first army and it is on its way home now and we are with the third army. I guess though we are going to see things and Germany which is worth a whole lot.

Am feeling fine now and all that is worrying me is the cold weather. Last week it was very cold but it has stopped raining which is something to be thankful for. You mentioned in the last letter something about me not seeing any of the beautiful part of France. I have not seen anything for a long time as we have been within shell fire ever since we have been in France and all we have seen is piles of rock where cities and towns have been. So you see we are not seeing any of the beautiful country that the boys write about. * * *

I will try to add a few lines to the letter I wrote a few days ago. I did not get to mail it for I was called out on a trip. Had to take a load of French civilians that had been German prisoners back to a little town. We have moved into the city of Luxemburg and are now sightseeing again. We are on the move most of the time seeing lots of beautiful country that is not all shot to pieces and people living as though they never heard of war. This is sure a pretty city, more like cities of the U. S. than any place I have been in. The people here are about half French and half German and Belgians and they all treat us fine. I have changed my mind about being sorry I had to come into this country. We also have something to be a little proud of now. Before the war was over we were with the first army headquarters and when we moved up here we were transferred to the third army which is made up of the best of all organizations of the whole army and our own one company was all that was taken out of our train. So we are a little swelled up now and besides we are going to get to see part of Germany for we move on again in a few days.

Must close now for I have written all I can. It is lots of work to write all I see but will save it all and tell it when I get home. Lovingly,

ROBERT.

CIVIL WAR IN BERLIN

WITH LIEBNECHT CROWD IN SUPREME EFFORT TO GAIN CONTROL, ANARCHY RUNS RIOT IN CAPITAL.

TELEGRPH IS SEIZED

BANKS ARE BARRICADED AND AN ARMED CROWD SURGES THRU STREETS—FLEEING CITY

RADICAL'S FINAL REPORT

Independent Socialists Join Spartacides in Proclamation for Last Effort—Labor Parties Are Said To Have Proclaimed a General Strike.

Copenhagen, Jan. 7.—Civil war has broken out at Berlin, according to dispatches received here from a German source, and which add that the capital is in a state of wild anarchy. All the banks have been barricaded, telegraph offices are in the hands of the Sparicides and heavily armed crowds are surging through the streets. Strong army divisons loyal to the Ebert government were ordered to storm headquarters of the police in Berlin Monday night, and which at that time was held by the Spartacides.

It is understood the German government will be removed from Berlin to Frankfort-on-the-Main if loyal troops are defeated in the fighting that is reported in progress at Berlin. The Spartacides in Berlin have seized a number of newspapers.

This is regarded the final and supreme effort of Karl Liebnecht and his radical aids to secure control of the government and swing the Bolsheviki into power. Hundreds of persons are fleeing from Berlin. The Independent Socialists joined the Spartacides in issuing a proclamation calling for a final fight for a "Red Revolution." There was some casualties in the street fighting, according to informaion from the German frontier.

WOMEN JOIN IN BATTLE.

Copenhagen, Jan. 7.—A whole division of women soldier sis fighting with the Poles in a furious battle that raged around Lemburg and many of them have been killed, said Vienna dispatches. A Ruthian army of 20,000 attacked Lemburg on a twelve mile front. A number of women soldiers were captured. It is reported that Ukranian troops have occupied Lubaczow, north of Lemburg.

HUNS QUIT JUST IN TIME.

Washington, Jan. 7.—At the moment the armistice was signed the United States and the Allies had perfected plans for the greatest offensive of the war and which undoubtedly would have ended in the capture of the great fort at Met zand the crumbling of Germany's army in the rear, Admiral Plunkett, who had charge of the big naval guns on the western front told the house naval affairs committee this afternoon.

To Attend Emmert Funeral.

Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Coe will leave tonight for Tarkio, where they will attend the funeral services tomorrow for T. J Emmert, who died Sunday afternoon.

Anna Stark Critically Ill.

Miss Anna Stark, the daughter of Jonathan Stark, is very ill with influenza at the Stark home on East First street. Miss Stark is about sixteen years old and is a member of the spring graduating class of the High School. She attended the class sermon of the High School at the First Christian church Sunday night and with others of her class, acted as ushers. She became ill Monday morning and her condition this afternoon is precarious.

There are more horses in the United States today than ever before — or there were in 1917. In spite of our shipments to Europe, it is safe to say we have something like 21,000,000 left.

Yuma, Arizona, is known for extreme dryness of its climate. Its annual rainfall of 3.13 is the lowest recorded at any of the United States weather bureaus.

MISS PARCHER RESIGNS

Miss Jessie Parcher, county chairman of the Women's Committee of the National Council of Defense, has resigned her work and a new chairman will later be appointed by Mrs. W. K. James of St. Joseph, district chairman, who wil assume the work of Miss Parcher for Nodaway county.

Miss Parcher was appointed chairman of the committee when the Council was first organized. The work of this organization was that of food conservation, and enlisting the aid of the women in all movements for war relief apart from the work that came under the Red Cross administration.

COTTON GOODS TO GO HIGHER

As indication that buyers of cotton goods—the retailer and the consumer—are going to pay a still further advance over last year's prices are contained in the following December issue of the Dry Goods Economist, which says:

"Confirmation of recent reports is at hand that fall, 1919, lines of cotton underwear will be opened immediately after January 1 at prices from 20 to 30 per cent higher that for the 1918 opening. It is claimed that these advances are unavoidable in view of advancing figures on cotton and yarns and the demand of labor for still higher wages, in some instances already granted. The effect of all this will be to stabilize the prices of spring goods and prevent the reduction anticipated by buyers. On the other hand the fact that fall openings are already two months behind, will mean a lessened production — though because of greater mill capacity, not necessarily curtailed to as great an extent as might appear at first glance.

The possible volume of production will depend in large measure on the buyers themselves, for the longer they hold off the greater will be the shortage and the consequent maintenance of high figures.

"MIKE'S" NAME IS CLEARED.

Mike is an angel.

There is not the least doubt about that—never has been in the minds of his host of friends since that day a year and a half ago when he drank arsenate of lead, was buried with ceremony and a fitting tombstone placed over his grave at the Normal campus.

But what was Mike in earthly existence?

Stubby and sawed-off of legs, long and low of body, head and ears several sizes too large, a coat of hair that looked like a floor mop. Strangers dared not call him a cur in the presence of his friends, yet his frends dared not try to classify him for fear they would have to brand him as a cur.

But Mike was no cur, and the hundreds of Normal students who loved their ugly mascot and the people of Skidmore who formerly kept their "town dog" by dropping money in his contribution box, will be glad to know he was a prince, a descendent of the oldest and sturdiest of Scotch nobility, whose ancestors were the companions of kings.

Mike's identity became known last night when his very image was thrown on the screen at a local picture show, where the aristocrats of dogdom were being exhibited. There he stood on the show bench; the same dinky little legs almost too short to reach the ground; the same long body, monstrous head and floor-mop coat, a Scotch terrier of the bluest blood known as the Cairn terrier, a type of dog bred years ago by the old Scotch kings., who valued them for their hunting and fighting qualities.

These qualities Mike had, as well as others which can now be explained by his ancestry, and Mike, the prince turned pauper, is cleared of the stigma of "cur."

WOULD PAY HOMAGE

GROWING DEMAND THAT ROOSEVELT FUNERAL BE PUBLIC.

WILSON WIRES MESSAGE

Learned That Great Memorial Service Is Being Planned to be Held in New York City.

Oyster Bay, Jan. 7.—The funeral of Col. Roosevelt tomorrow will be private and simple, it was announced today and there will be neither eulogy nor military honor.

Oyster Bay, Jan. 7.—There was a growing demand today that a public funeral be held for Col. Theodore Roosevelt in order that the nation at large may be able to pay homage to the memory of a great American. A veritable flood of telegrams of sympathy were received among them being one from President Woodrow Wilson.

A number of mounted police from New York arrived today to help handle the crowds tomorrow. It is understood that the simplicity of the funeral is in accord with the wishes often expressed by the colonel to Mrs. Roosevelt. It is learned that a great memorial service for the late Colonel is being planned in New York City.

All members of the family looked today as though they had spent a sleepless night and their heart-crushing sorrow was evident. Mrs. Roosevelt looked near the point of sheer exhaustion. Intimate friends of the late Colonel expressed the belief today that he left an estate not to exceed half a million dollars and some put the figure even lower.

TO ROOSEVELT FUNERAL.

Paris, Jan. 7.—When President Wilson arrived here this morning from Italy one of his first acts was to send directions that vice-President Marshal represent him at the funeral of Col. Roosevelt. He signed a proclamation ordering that all flags on government buildings be lowered.

THE KINDERGARTEN CLOSES

Because of the absence from school of Miss Nelson, Kindergarten assistant, the Kintergarten will not be in session after Wednesday, January 8th, until about March 1st when its work will be resumed. At that time places for those now in attendance will be reserved and names on the waiting list considered in order of their application. Transportation for the pupils of the first and second grades will be continued. Since, however, all children in these grades are carrying noon lunch, no car will be sent at noon after Wednesday until return of milder weather when further announcement will be made. Aside from The changes mentioned the work of the Demonstration school continues as usual.

288 OF HIS COMPANY KILLED

Harry C. Allen with the A. E. F., in France, in a letter to home folks dated December 8, writes as follows:

"I can at last inform you where I am; it is Bazoilles sur Meuse, on the Meuse river. The population is fifty, and twenty-five at the front lines. Oh boy, but it's a swell place when you're asleep. Before I came here I was at Chaumont on the Marne, general headquarters of the A. E. F. Was there for ten months and before that was in Paris, Montiers sur Meuse, Goudrecourt, Menincourt and Rubeyville. I sailed from the United States with a company of 300 men of whom twelve are now living and of the twelve nine have married French girls. Three are still single. I would just as soon be dead as married to a French girl. It will not be long until I shall be back in the U. S. I hope to get a letter from home soon.

KIDS ENJOYED SLEIGH RIDE

Remember the old lady of the shoe who had so many children she didn't know what to do, of nursery days? The old lady of the rhyme had nothing on Uncle Jimmie Swinford, who accumulated some twenty-five or thirty youngsters yesterday evening and treated them to a sleigh ride. Uncle Jimmie drove up his cutter to the Democrat-Forum office to get his paper and in less than two shakes a passel of kids had tied on behind ready for a ride. But Uncle Jimmy decided that the whole bunch ought to go and at once began making room, and as quick as they could crawl up to her back, the little bay mare had five youngsters aboard. Others climbed into the cutter and still others brought up their sleds until they resembled a big fan spread out behind the cutter. The kids even crowded Uncle Jimmy out of the seat, but he didn't mind and after everybody had gotten comfortably fixed he managed to crowd back into a tiny space and they drove off, bells jingling and lusty lungs proclaiming their pleasure at the treat. There were twenty-one kids by actual count in Uncle Jimmie's party and they all hope the snow will stay on and promised to meet him and the cutter again tomorrow evening.

LAWMAKERS READY

JOB HUNTERS ARE BUSY

Gov. Gardner Will Read Message to Joint Session—Long Meeting of Body in Sight.

Jefferson City, Jan. 7.—Members of the state legislature are arriving for what promises to be a long session beginning tomorrow.

Two of the Democratic candidates for president pro tem. of the senate are here. Senators Goodson of Macon and Harris of Boone. Senator Wallace Greene of Kansas City, who is generally regarded as the most likely candidate for this honor, is expected tonight. The attention of the Democrats is directed entirely to the senate, where they will be in control. Although the house is close, the Republicans will have a lead of three votes when they are all present and voting.

There are a swarm of candidates for jobs in both houses.

The ratification of the federal prohibition amendment is not attracting much attention here. It has been the generally expressed opinion here for weeks past that both branches of the assembly will ratify the federal dry amendment, and that very little time will be lost in doing so. Even wet members, to some extent, have expressed themselves as being anxious to get this question out as early as possible.

KEGIN BOYS IN FRANCE.

Boy Writes Parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Kegin, on Dec. 8.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Kegin of 602 East Second street, have received a letter from their son, Roy Kegin, with the American forces in France, dated [illegible]. Roy went over in July. The Kegins have another son, Francis, who left Maryville early in the summer of 1917, with the first lot of enlisted men to go into training.

Dec. 8.

Dear Mother: Just a few lines to let you know I am still well and feeling fine. I hope all at home are the same. We have been pretty busy lately. Have just made a long hike, but are in camp now and guess we will stay until after Xmas. I have been upon the fighting line and seen some times. Have never seen Francis yet, but guess he is O. K. Give my best regards to all the kids, for I can't write them all. Well, war is over and I guess we will be back in the U. S. A. some of these fine days. I received the picture and thank you very much. Brother sure does look good. I don't look any too good, but I feel fine. Do any of the children ever see Harry Thompson or Ora Harding? Tell the boys to take time to drop a line so I will know how they are getting along. * * * I guess I will close for this time. Your loving son,

SERGT. ROY KEGIN,
Co. A 18th Machine Gun Batt., A. E. F.

SEEING GERMAN COUNTRY.

Robert Burris Traveling Into Germany With the Third Army.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Burris have received a very interesting letter from their son, Robert, with the field artillery service, in which he tells about their moves since the signing of the armistice.

Nov. 21.

Dear Mother.—I has been some time since I had a chance to write as we have been very busy since the war ceased moving up, and besides I am driving a truck and have very little time for myself. We are now located in a town that was taken in 1914 and have a fine place to stay. Before the war the French used it for a training camp. I forgot to say we were in barracks—large brick buildings with running water and everything convenient, but we are leaving here early in the morning for the city of Luxemburg, so we are soon going to be somewhere in Germany instead of France. I am sure sorry I have to stay over here now for before the war was over we were in the first army and it is on its way home now and we are with the third army. I guess though we are going to see things and Germany which is worth a whole lot.

Am feeling fine now and all that is worrying me is the cold weather. Last week it was very cold but it has stopped raining which is something to be thankful for. You mentioned in the last letter something about me not seeing any of the beautiful part of France. I have not seen anything for a long time as we have been within shell fire ever since we have been in France and all we have seen is piles of rock where cities and towns have been. So you see we are not seeing any of the beautiful country that the boys write about. * * *

I will try to add a few lines to the letter I wrote a few days ago. I did not get to mail it for I was called out on a trip. Had to take a load of French civilians that had been German prisoners back to a little town. We have moved into the city of Luxemburg and are now sightseeing again. We are on the move most of the time seeing lots of beautiful country that is not all shot to pieces and people living as though they never heard of war. This is sure a pretty city, more like cities of the U. S. than any place I have been in. The people here are about half French and half German and Belgians and they all treat us fine. I have changed my mind about being sorry I had to come into this country. We also have something to be a little proud of now. Before the war was over we were with the first army headquarters and when we moved up here we were transferred to the third army which is made up of the best of all organizations of the whole army and our own one company was all that was taken out of our train. So we are a little swelled up now and besides we are going to get to see part of Germany for we move on again in a few days.

Must close now for I have written all I can. It is lots of work to write all I see but will save it all and tell it when I get home. Lovingly,

ROBERT.

CIVIL WAR IN BERLIN

WITH LIEBNECHT CROWD IN SUPREME EFFORT TO GAIN CONTROL, ANARCHY RUNS RIOT IN CAPITAL.

TELEGRPH IS SEIZED

BANKS ARE BARRICADED AND AN ARMED CROWD SURGES THRU STREETS—FLEEING CITY

RADICAL'S FINAL REPORT

Independent Socialists Join Spartacides in Proclamation for Last Effort—Labor Parties Are Said To Have Proclaimed a General Strike.

Copenhagen, Jan. 7.—Civil war has broken out at Berlin, according to dispatches received here from a German source, and which add that the capital is in a state of wild anarchy. All the banks have been barricaded, telegraph offices are in the hands of the Sparicides and heavily armed crowds are surging through the streets. Strong army divisons loyal to the Ebert government were ordered to storm headquarters of the police in Berlin Monday night, and which at that time was held by the Spartacides.

It is understood the German government will be removed from Berlin to Frankfort-on-the-Main if loyal troops are defeated in the fighting that is reported in progress at Berlin. The Spartacides in Berlin have seized a number of newspapers.

This is regarded the final and supreme effort of Karl Liebnecht and his radical aids to secure control of the government and swing the Bolsheviki into power. Hundreds of persons are fleeing from Berlin. The Independent Socialists joined the Spartacides in issuing a proclamation calling for a final fight for a "Red Revolution." There was some casualties in the street fighting, according to informaion from the German frontier.

WOMEN JOIN IN BATTLE.

Copenhagen, Jan. 7.—A whole division of women soldier sis fighting with the Poles in a furious battle that raged around Lemburg and many of them have been killed, said Vienna dispatches. A Ruthian army of 20,000 attacked Lemburg on a twelve mile front. A number of women soldiers were captured. It is reported that Ukranian troops have occupied Lubaczow, north of Lemburg.

HUNS QUIT JUST IN TIME.

Washington, Jan. 7.—At the moment the armistice was signed the United States and the Allies had perfected plans for the greatest offensive of the war and which undoubtedly would have ended in the capture of the great fort at Metzand the crumbling of Germany's army in the rear, Admiral Plunkett, who had charge of the big naval guns on the western front told the house naval affairs committee this afternoon.

Miss Stark is about sixteen years old and is a member of the spring graduating class of the High School. She attended the class sermon of the High School at the First Christian church Sunday night and with others of her class, acted as ushers. She became ill Monday morning and her condition this afternoon is precarious.

There are more horses in the United States today than ever before — or there were in 1917. In spite of our shipments to Europe, it is safe to say we have something like 21,000,000 left.

Yuma, Arizona, is known for extreme dryness of its climate. Its annual rainfall of 3.13 is the lowest recorded at any of the United States weather bureaus.

MISS PARCHER RESIGNS

Miss Jessie Parcher, county chairman of the Women's Committee of the National Council of Defense, has resigned her work and a new chairman will later be appointed by Mrs. W. K. James of St. Joseph, distrct chairman, who wil assume the work of Miss Parcher for Nodaway county.

Miss Parcher was appointed chairman of the committee when the Council was first organized. The work of this organization was that of food conservation, and enlisting the aid of the women in all movements for war relief apart from the work that came under the Red Cross administration.

COTTON GOODS TO GO HIGHER

As indication that buyers of cotton goods—the retailer and the consumer—are going to pay a still further advance over last year's prices are contained in the following December issue of the Dry Goods Economist, which says:

"Confirmation of recent reports is at hand that fall, 1919, lines of cotton underwear will be opened immediately after January 1 at prices from 20 to 30 per cent higher that for the 1918 opening. It is claimed that these advances are unavoidable in view of advancing figures on cotton and yarns and the demand of labor for still higher wages, in some instances already granted. The effect of all this will be to stabilize the prices of spring goods and prevent the reduction anticipated by buyers. On the other hand the fact that fall openings are already two months behind, will mean a lessened production — though because of greater mill capacity, not necessarily curtailed to as great an extent as might appear at first glance.

The possible volume of production will depend in large measure on the buyers themselves, for the longer they hold off the greater will be the shortage and the consequent maintenance of high figures.

"MIKE'S" NAME IS CLEARED.

Mike is an angel.

There is not the least doubt about that—never has been in the minds of his host of friends since that day a year and a half ago when he drank arsenate of lead, was buried with ceremony and a fitting tombstone placed over his grave at the Normal campus.

But what was Mike in earthly existence?

Stubby and sawed-off of legs, long and low of body, head and ears several sizes too large, a coat of hair that looked like a floor mop. Strangers dared not call him a cur in the presence of his friends, yet his frends dared not try to classify him for fear they would have to brand him as a cur.

But Mike was no cur, and the hundreds of Normal students who loved their ugly mascot and the people of Skidmore who formerly kept their "town dog" by dropping money in his contribution box, will be glad to know he was a prince, a descendent of the oldest and sturdiest of Scotch nobility, whose ancestors were the companions of kings.

Mike's identity became known last night when his very image was thrown on the screen at a local picture show, where the aristocrats of dogdom were being exhibited. There he stood on the show bench; the same dinky little legs almost too short to reach the ground; the same long body, monstrous head and floor-mop coat, a Scotch terrier of the bluest blood known as the Cairn terrier, a type of dog bred years ago by the old Scotch kings., who valued them for their hunting and fighting qualities.

These qualities Mike had, as well as others which can now be explained by his ancestry, and Mike, the prince turned pauper, is cleared of the stigma of "cur."

GROWING DEMAND THAT ROOSEVELT FUNERAL BE PUBLIC.

WILSON WIRES MESSAGE

Learned That Great Memorial Service Is Being Planned to be Held in New York City.

Oyster Bay, Jan. 7.—The funeral of Col. Roosevelt tomorrow will be private and simple, it was announced today and there will be neither eulogy nor military honor.

Oyster Bay, Jan. 7.—There was a growing demand today that a public funeral be held for Col. Theodore Roosevelt in order that the nation at large may be able to pay homage to the memory of a great American. A veritable flood of telegrams of sympathy were received among them being one from President Woodrow Wilson.

A number of mounted police from New York arrived today to help handle the crowds tomorrow. It is understood that the simplicity of the funeral is in accord with the wishes often expressed by the colonel to Mrs. Roosevelt. It is learned that a great memorial service for the late Colonel is being planned in New York City.

All members of the family looked today as though they had spent a sleepless night and their heart-crushing sorrow was evident. Mrs. Roosevelt looked near the point of sheer exhaustion. Intimate friends of the late Colonel expressed the belief today that he left an estate not to exceed half a million dollars and some put the figure even lower.

TO ROOSEVELT FUNERAL.

Paris, Jan. 7.—When President Wilson arrived here this morning from Italy one of his first acts was to send directions that vice-President Marshal represent him at the funeral of Col. Roosevelt. He signed a proclamation ordering that all flags on government buildings be lowered.
